LONDON, January 2.

THE King of Pruſſia has publiſhed a Placart, dated Berlin, December 11, regulating the ſale of foreign ſalt within his reſpective dominions, particularly at Koningſbourgh in Pruſſia, Malta, and in his new acquired territories in Poland.

Letters from the South of France are full of accounts of the terrible devaſtations occaſioned by the late inundation in thoſe parts. It began at ſix in the morning and continued till 8 at night. The inhabitants in all the low country, are totally ruined, not being able to ſave any thing; and what ſender to the miſery intire, was, that the rain was attended with the higheſt ſtorm that was ever remembered, at South Eaſt, which levelled the vines and olives, overthrew houſes, plantations, and whole villages. The ſtream of this ſtorm extended to thoſe parts of Spain and Languedoc adjoining to Rouſſillon.

It is ſaid that the Court of Vienna has conſented that one of the Princeſſes ſhall be inſtructed in the tenets of the Greek profeſſion, to qualify her for a conſort to the Grand Duke, heir apparent to the Empire of Ruſſia

We are informed that Mr. J——, one of the late partners with F——ce, attends at the office where the dividends are paid, begging two pence in the pound of the ſeveral creditors as they appear.

The number 45, on which 20,000l. has been inſured away in the courſe of the lottery, came up yeſterday a blank.

Some time ago Lord Pomfret called at a Bookſeller's where advertiſements for the papers were taken in, and gave in one for the ſale of ſome lands. The Bookſeller, who did not know his Lordſhip, ſeeing ſome grammatical errors in the advertiſement, took up a pen and was going to correct them, when his Lordſhip, with his uſual vehemence, ſtop'd him ſhort—"Come, come, Sir, print that as you ſee it; that's the ſtyle of a Gentleman, not a mechanic; my name is Pomfret, Sir!" The Bookſeller made his beſt bow, dropt his pen, and the advertiſement appeared next morning, with all the uſual marks of quality.

Dr. Goldſmith's Comedy is in the hands of the Printer, and is to make it's appearance at Covent Garden next Monday.

Dec. 8. We hear from Cambridge, that Dr. Kennicote has had advice from his correſpondent Mr. Burns, at Rome (who is collating MSS. for him there) that he has found an old Latin Bible in the Vatican, in which is written part of the loſt 91ſt book of Livy: Mr. Burns tranſcribed it, and finds it contains an account of the Sertorian war in Spain; people and places are mentioned in it, which have not been taken notice of by any other authors. This manuſcript is thought to have been written in the ſecond century.

On Tueſday laſt was heard at Doctors Commons, before the Right Worſhipful Doctor Hay, Dean of the Arches Court of Canterbury, a cauſe of correction brought by a pariſhioner of Romford in Eſſex againſt a late Chaplain thereof, for brawling in the Chapel and uſing ſeveral ſcandalous and opprobrious words againſt ſeveral of the pariſhioners. The Judge having heard the evidence read, and Council on both ſides, was clearly of opinion that the facts were fully proved, ſentenced the defendant to be ſuſpended from the miniſtration of his office as a Clergyman for one month, and condemned him in coſts of ſuit.

Dec. 12. The report revives, that a Parliamentary eſtabliſhment will be agitated for the Dukes of Glouceſter and Cumberland; it being urged that the nation ſhould not deſert her Princes, however the brothers may be deſerted by the Sovereign.

Extract of a letter from Rome, Nov. 10.

"The reſolution taken for the total extinction of the Society of the Jeſuits is now certain beyond a doubt, and publickly talked of here. The ableſt men among the heads of that fraternity have been very buſy of late contriving a future plan of life for themſelves and ſuch of their Brethren as do not chooſe to become members of any other religious orders, and it is generally thought they will fix on ſome mercantile Scheme, for you know there have been great merchants among them, witneſs the famous Pera la Valette, who formerly reſided at Marſeilles. In ſhort, from what I can learn, I think we may expect to ſee the quondam Jeſuits in ſome Years hence the greateſt, perhaps almoſt the ſole Bankers in Europe; at leaſt if this is not the caſe it will neither be for want of money, ambition or abilities; what they intend is, to make regular eſtabliſhments at Paris, Madrid, Genoa, Rome and Vienna, and they are to begin their works by iſſuing a Kind of bank notes to bearer payable by their caſhiers, to every town in Europe and part of Aſia, on ſuch favourable terms as to make it the intereſt of Ambaſſadors, Conſuls, Merchants, Travellers and all others to uſe them. They have taken this hint from a ſimilar banking company in the city of London, who now ſupply almoſt all the Engliſh travellers with a kind of bank notes for their expences, by which they ſave ſometimes more that five per cent. in Italy; and I do not ſee why the Jeſuit banking company may not equally ſucceed. It is certain they have already made applications to the Court of Verſailles and Madrid for liberty to reſide in France and Spain, on condition that they ſhall in no ſhape intermeddle with religion or politicks, and give ſecurity for their good behaviour during a certain Number of years."

Extract of a Letter from Gibraltar, dated the 16th of November laſt.

"A Swediſh frigate of 36 guns arrived here from Tangier, having conveyed to that port the Swediſh Conſul, in order to renew the peace, as alſo a preſent for the Emperor of a great quantity of caſh, jewels, ſix braſs mortars, 2000 ſhells, a number of cannon, ſhot and other military ſtores, the whole amounting to about half a million of Spaniſh hard dollars. The Captain of the frigate remained at Tangier in order to conduct the above preſent in company with the Conſul to the Emperor. We alſo hear by letters from Liſbon, that an Ambaſſador from that Court has ſet out in a Portugueſe frigate of War for Mogador, with a rich preſent, in order to obtain a peace with the Emperor of Morocco."

Extract of a letter from a Merchant at Plymouth, December 8.

"Yeſterday was towed into Polperra, a fiſhing town about 16 miles weſt of this port, a large brig laden with tar from Cape Fear in North Carolina. By ſome papers waſhed out of her ſhe appears to be the Betſy, Aaron Fowke, maſter, and that ſhe ſailed from Cape Fear the 17th of October laſt, bound to this port. Her cargo will be nearly all ſaved, 200 barrels of tar being already landed out of her. She was boarded by the Salvers off the Start Point, and was found lying on her broadſide, with not a living creature on board. All her ſails are ſuppoſed to have been blown from the yards, none having appeared. The Salvers intended bringing her into this port, but the wind and tide would not permit."

Warrington, Jan 1. The Duke of Bridgewater's canal is now paſſable for boats between Mancheſter and the river Merſey, at Runcorn, except about one mile. The fall from the canal into the tide way of the Merſey, is near 98 feet which within the diſtance of about 600 yards is divided into 16 locks, for veſſels of 50 tons burden. They are ſupplied with water from the canal, through baſons and aqueducts, formed in rock.

Yeſterday the locks were opened, and the Heart of Oak, (a veſſel of 50 tons burden, belonging to the Duke, from Liverpool) paſſed through them; and this day upwards of 600 of his Grace's workmen were entertained upon the lock banks, with an ox roaſted whole, and plenty of Liquor.

A PLAN to perpetuate the UNION between GREAT BRITAIN and AMERICA, to the lateſt Period of Time.

IT is a juſt Obſervation, that the moſt ſimple Propoſitions, are hard to be rendered more intelligible by any Explanation; this Remark is applicable to the preſent Diſpute between Great-Britain and America; altho' the Truth is obvious to common Senſe, yet there have been Volumes written on the Subject. A few Words may make the Matter clear to every Mind. The Law of Nature, the Charter, and the Britiſh Parliament all declare that the Coloniſts are free Men;—it is a ſelf-evident Truth, that their total Subjection to a Parliament independent of them, deſtroys every Idea of Freedom and Property; and it is equally certain, that no Line can be drawn between the ſupreme Authority of Parliament and the total Subjection of the Colonies; the Conſequence is, the Colonies are independent on the Britiſh Parliament.——This Truth is ſo clear it muſt blaze upon every mind.—The great Queſtion now is, How ſhall the Union between Britain and America be preſerved? The Anſwer is eaſy.—Common Intereſt is the Band of Union; the People of each Country muſt treat the other in ſuch a Manner as to make it their Intereſt to preſerve the Connection. The People of both Countries are united in the King, who is the Head of the Empire, and Intereſt (the only Cement of political Bodies) muſt preſerve Union between the Members of the Empire, and between them and their Head.

When the King wants the Aſſiſtance of his American Subjects, he muſt apply to their Houſe of Commons for Grants, in the ſame Way he now does to his Parliament in Britain. The Colonies finding themſelves treated like free Men by their King, and fellow Subjects in Britain, and their Rights eſtabliſhed upon a firm Foundation, they will be animated to contribute the utmoſt in their Power to promote the Honour of the Crown and the Support of the Kingdom. And as the Colonies increaſe in Wealth and Numbers, ſo will their Aſſiſtance to the Parent State increaſe until Britain flows with the Riches of America; and by Union and Harmony between the two Countries, founded on Freedom and common Intereſt, the Britiſh Empire may continue firmly united and flouriſh to the lateſt Ages.

CHARLESTOWN, March 9.

Wedneſday laſt his Excellency the Right Hon. Lord Charles Greville Montagu, Governor in Chief, &c. of this Province, embarked, with his Lady, and Family, on board his Majeſty's Packet Boat the Eagle, Captain William Nicholls. His Excellency was ſaluted on leaving Town, by the Artillery Company, and the ſeveral Baſtions, and by the Packet on his going on board. The next Day the Packet fell down into Rebellion Road (when his Excellency was again ſaluted by the Baſtions, and by Fort Johnſton) the Packet only waits for a fair wind, to proceed for Falmouth.

BOSTON, March 29.

"Laſt Friday, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a fire broke out in the Cuſtom Houſe; but by the timely aſſiſtance of the inhabitants of the town a ſtop was put to its progreſs, before it had done much Damage. It is generally thought, the fire's not happening in the night has prevented much lying and falſhood. If we may judge from the repreſentations ſent home upon other occaſions, it would not argue the want of candor to ſuppoſe, that the C———————s, or ſome of there Tools, would have made a formidable ſtory of it and influenced the M—n—y to believe, it was done on purpoſe; either in teſtimony of reſentment againſt the Cuſtom Houſe Officers, or with a view to a mobbiſh ſcramble for the Revenue Money, which is ſo wantonly taken from the Colonies, and worſe than thrown away. Perhaps, ſome certain perſons might have repaired to the caſtle for fear of their Lives, and have wrote for more regiments to keep the rebellious town of Boſton in good order."

London Jan. 20. It was yeſterday currently reported on 'Change, that advice has been received by the Hillſborough packet from Boſton, that Governor HUTCHINSON, in order to enforce the maxims of adminiſtration, had recourſe to the military; and that the Houſe of Repreſentatives, in behalf of the people, reſolved ſuch a ſtep to be rebellion againſt their conſtitutional rights and privileges, and determined to oppoſe force by force, by ordering out the Militia.

[This article we take to be merely political, and intended to ſhew the true ſpirit of the contending parties in America, rather than the truth of Fact. However, it may appear in futurity to be predictive, not to ſay prophetick; for the meaſures of adminiſtration are drove in America, and particularly in this province, perhaps beyond the intention of the prudent Premier; and how ſoon what is now aſſerted in jeſt, may turn to be a ſober reality, let Mr. HUTCHINSON and others ſeriouſly conſider! It is a common proverb, that many true words are ſpoken in jeſt, and it may be relied upon by all ſlave makers, that the people of this province are too enlightened and ſpirited, much longer to ſubmit to TYRANTS.]

Extract of a letter from a Gentleman in London, dated December 24.

"The Eaſt India buſineſs is like to engroſs the attention of this Seſſion. It ſeems probable that government will aſſume the jura regalia of that mighty dominion. This will fatally extend the influence of the crown. Our conſtitution is indeed already infected to the very heart. Aſiatick wealth has, like a mighty torrent, overwhelmed every free conſtitution upon which it has hitherto turned. There is however ſome conſolation, while we lament the fall of Britiſh liberty, in ſeeing the riſe of that of America. Yes my friend, like a young Phœnix, ſhe will riſe full plumed and glorious from her mother's aſhes." I cannot but think that a determined oppoſition on your part, to the dangerous innovation of penſioning the Governor and Judges will defeat it. It is ſo directly contrary to his Majeſty's declaration, and ſo utterly inconſiſtent with every conſtitutional idea, concerning an impartial adminiſtration of juſtice, that it cannot be maintained but on the ground of arbitrary policy."

Bickerton, March 11, 1773.

The 7th Inſt. a child from Charlton died here aged 16 months, and buried the 8th. A family moving from Mendon to Amherſt, riding in a waggon, a woman carrying her child in her lap being tired gave the child to its father, who accidentally ſlipped into a ditch, and the child falling out of his arms the foremoſt wheel of the waggon ran over the back of his head and one arm, and bruiſed it ſo, that it died in two hours; it was buried with the other child, and was of the ſame age. One came 100 miles from the Northward and the other 100 from the Southward. The mothers went out of town two days ago and left their babes behind.

NEW-LONDON, April 2.

Laſt Friday a ſmall Sloop was ſeen (by ſome people in a canoe) to overſet near Fiſher's Iſland, in a guſt of wind, when three people were diſcovered to get on the rigging, but the veſſel ſoon after ſunk; the next day, Saturday in the afternoon, the hatches of a veſſel made of pine boards, came aſhore on ſaid Iſland; alſo a keg marked T S 1770 on one of the heads, and an oar; which articles it is ſuppoſed came from the above ſloop. On Sunday, her maſt was diſcovered, being unſtepped and held by the rigging. On Monday, a boat weighed her ſo far as to diſcover her bowſprit, but fearing the ſtay would part, the people left her in order to procure better materials; but, before their return, a ſloop came acroſs and took up the maſt, which is brought to this place; ſince which, the veſſel has not been found. She muſt be about 3 feet hold, by her maſt. It is not yet known where ſhe belonged.

A veſſel from the Jerſies put into Fiſher's Iſland laſt Saturday, juſt before, in the ſound, off this Harbour, ſhe came acroſs a quarter deck, which it's thought belonged to the above veſſel

To be SOLD or LET,
(And to be entered upon the 20th of April next)

A Pleaſant and well ſituated farm or plantation, on Hackinſack River, and over Peck Creek, in the county of Bergen, in New-Jerſey, now in the poſſeſſion of Capt. Joſiah Banks, three miles to the ſouthward of the court-houſe, and not four miles from Bull's ferry, on Hudſon's-river, to which there is a good road, and from whence ſmall boats daily attend the New-York market. The farm contains 500 acres, by much the greateſt part is a valuable meadow; about 80 acres cleared, which produces timothy graſs and clover, and bears good crops of rie, Indian corn, oats, and other grain; on the other part of the meadow may be cut two hundred tons of good freſh graſs. All the produce of the farm may be tranſported to New-York, Hackinſack, or elſewhere; the boats from Hackinſack daily paſs by: It affords excellent paſture in the ſpring and ſummer ſeaſon, and is very commodious for raiſing of cattle. There is on it a good houſe, kitchen, and barn, placed ſo advantageouſly on an eminence as to command a view of the whole farm. A ferry over Hackinſack river belongs to this tract of land, which at preſent is of the annual value of 60 l. from one ſide of the river only, and daily increaſes; and under the preſent ſituation of the ſaid ferry and lands adjacent; the profits from both ſides may be appropriated to the uſe of the owner of this farm. The whole plantation may be incloſed with about 200 pannel of fence: Several milch cows, oxen, and young cattle, with farming utenſils, are alſo to be ſold or let with it. If any perſon is inclined to purchaſe or hire, they may apply to and agree with David Ogden, at Newark, who will give a good title for the ſame. 76 79
